

Instruction for authors for AMSER RAD PATH CASE OF THE MONTH:

AMSER (The Alliance of Medical Student Educators in Radiology) is soliciting cases for the AMSER Rad Path Teaching File from medical students which will be published electronically on our website. These are meant to be cases that emphasize the radiologic work up of the case, the gross pathology findings, histopathologic findings and a short discussion of the pathology. Cases should be 15-20 slides. Not all cases will have gross pathology, but preference will be given for cases that do have gross pathology and or intraoperative findings. Cases will initially be presented as PDFs but we may switch to a more interactive web based format.

The first step for submitting a case is to fill out the following case suggestion form and email it to me at AGIARDINO@bwh.harvard.edu. Preference will be given to AMSER members. As a medical student, you can join the AUR (Association of University Radiologists) and AMSER for free <https://www.aur.org/Secondary.aspx?id=663>

First Name:

Last Name:

Email:

Institution:

Attending-level physician who must be an AMSER member who has reviewed your case:

Diagnosis:

Subspecialty (i.e GI, GU, Chest, Neuro, etc):

Modalities:

Attached case and template: Please follow the format of the published cases and template and send it as a PowerPoint which the editor can make changes to if necessary.

Once the editors have reviewed your suggestion, they will let you know their decision via e-mail.

Thank you,

Matthew Hartman, MD

Angela Giradino, MD

Jeanne Hill, MD

Allegheny Health Network

Dana-Farber Cancer Institute

Medical University South Carolina

mhartman@wpahs.org

AGIARDINO@bwh.harvard.edu

hillj@muscd.edu