

ACER Achievement Award

Jocelyn D. Chertoff, MD, MS

Introduction by Gautham P. Reddy, MD, MPH

An inspiring and visionary leader in education, Dr Chertoff has a distinguished record of service to academic medicine and is one of the few radiologists to have been a leader in the Association of American Medical Colleges.

After completing her medical degree and residency at the University of Vermont, Dr Chertoff joined the faculty at Dartmouth, where she is a professor and vice chair in the Department of Radiology. She has chaired the Hitchcock Foundation Board of Trustees and has served as the Assistant Dean for Clinical Affairs and the residency program director.

Dr Chertoff will have the unique distinction of serving as president of ACER, APDR, and AUR in consecutive years. She has held key positions in the RSNA, ARRS, ACR, AAWR, and ABR.

Specializing in medical education and gastrointestinal radiology, Dr Chertoff has coauthored 22 articles and has given 53 national invited presentations, including a talk on “Health Care Reform and the Future of Radiology Education: Challenges and Strategies” at the 2011 AUR Plenary Keynote Session.

It is an honor to bestow on Dr Chertoff the ACER Achievement Award.
